CERTIFICATION TO FSSC 22000

Dear Jackson,

We are pleased to advise you that the independent technical review team in our scheme office has completed the evaluation of the audit documentation for the certification audit conducted recently. This evaluation is required by the United Kingdom Accreditation Services UKAS. The outcome of the evaluation has been successful, and your company has been awarded accredited UKAS certification to FSSC 22000 Management System International Standard.

Successful certification to this international standard is a significant achievement, and we would like to extend our sincere congratulations to all personnel for their efforts in this regard.

Your certificate

Attached is an electronic copy of the certificate.

The value of your certification

Your certification is valuable - you have invested time and money to earn your certification status and it underscores your commitment to the principles of quality.

Customers are more likely to do business with an ISO certified organisation as certification differentiates you from your competitors.

Promoting your certification

Your certification is newsworthy, and now that you are certified you can draw up a press release and submit it to industry magazines, local newspapers and trade organizations.

For you to promote your certification in a visual way; Intertek has developed a certification mark for every management system standard we offer. These marks may be used in marketing materials such as advertising, letterhead, and sales literature; in some cases, it can even be used on product packaging. The certification mark can be a powerful marketing aid, provided that it is used correctly.

Use of certificate, certification and accreditation marks

The use of the Intertek certification mark is detailed in the attached relevant document.

Maintenance

As you are aware, we will now be conducting periodic surveillance audits to ensure maintenance of your certification status to the high standard of food management that you have achieved. You will be contacted when these audits are due.

We at Intertek look forward to a long and mutually beneficial relationship with your company.

Congratulations! We are privileged to be issuing you with this certification.

Kind regards,
